Housing History Fun Fact

In October of 1991, NHS of Baltimore received a visit from two scholars researching NHS' methods of economic development and comparing them to similar methods used in the United Kingdom. The scholars, from the School for Advanced Urban Studies at Bristol University, wanted answers as to why UK methods had not worked as well and how they could be improved.

NHSB Sits Down In The Studio To Chat About The Mortgage Crisis

Last month, our Executive Director, Felix Torres lent his expertise to the "Living in Baltimore" radio show on Heaven 600 and "Real Money" on 88.9, discussing the housing and economic crisis' and the role nonprofits like NHSB play in helping homeowners get through it. In his interview with Deborah Owens on 88.9, Mr. Torres explained how NHS of Baltimore's counselor/ lender status puts the organization in a unique position to help people suffering at all levels of the economic and housing crisis.

NHSB To Offer Help During Tax Season

This year, NHSB will offer tax preparation free of charge, for low to moderate income taxpayers. Our efforts will be made possible through the Baltimore Cash Campaign, the Volunteer Income Tax Assistance program (VITA) and highly trained volunteers. Services will begin in January and will be offered Tues. and Thurs. 4:30pm-8:30pm and Sat. 10:00am-5:00pm. All services are absolutely free. Schedule an appointment today!

NHSB Happy Hour Fundraiser a Great Success

A gracious thanks to the Owl Bar for letting us host our happy hour, and to all of you who came. We had a huge turnout and NHSB received %10 of the proceeds. We hope to host another happy hour in the near future!
